Celebrating 175 Years

A bold vision for strong families and thriving kids

Beech Acres Parenting Center is proud to celebrate 175 years of strengthening Greater Cincinnati children and families. Throughout its history, we have served as a community partner for essential resources, parenting tools, and wrap-around care. In our ever-changing times, we equip all children and families to thrive—no matter their circumstances—so that each may reach their endless potential, seeding a strong future for us all.

OUR APPROACH

Beech Acres is responding with an upstream approach to the mounting youth mental health crisis.

We cannot reverse time, but we can do better tomorrow. Our vision of a “system transformed” reflects a community that equips every family with the support and protective factors to yield resilience for overcoming life’s challenges. Therefore, Beech Acres is moving upstream to grow universal prevention and early intervention strategies across Greater Cincinnati. By collaborating within systems that directly impact youth, we can meet children and parents where they are to build a “Community of Care” that strengthens the entire family.

- School-based mental health services and wrap-around family support
- Collaborative, community-wide delivery of Character Strength Curriculum
- Systems-level advocacy for mental health prevention policies and regulation
- Centralized access to parent coaching and resources
- Targeted interventions across at-risk populations and communities

HELP CREATE HOPE FOR OUR COMMUNITY’S FUTURE

Greater Cincinnati youth need our help now.

In its 175th year, Beech Acres is raising $1.75 million to expand evidence-based practices that build strong families and thriving children in Greater Cincinnati. Financial support in this endeavor is critical, as mental health promotion and prevention programs are chronically underfunded. While we remain committed to paving a positive path forward, we know the impact is greater with others walking alongside us. Therefore, Beech Acres welcomes your support through participation, contribution, and/or sponsorship of our 175th anniversary season of events. We appreciate your considered investment and partnership that will help us to seed and grow love stories for another 175 years.

The “Love Talks” Collection

Listen to real-life love stories sparked by Beech Acres, as families, friends, and children recount their own experiences of love and connection. Distributed for our city to enjoy via online and additional outlets as they become available.

“We get it. This is not about changing our daughter, it’s about changing US.”

Overwhelmed by ongoing power struggles with their 3-year old, this Beech Acres family saw improvements after just three parent coaching sessions. Upon modeling desired behavior, they found peace in their home and the confidence to approach challenges in a mindful manner.

Last year, nearly 1,900 caregivers received tools to improve relationships with their child and parenting confidence through supportive coaching.

Love Grows Here Community Mosaic

Art speaks to the spirit and is a time capsule for humanity. As a tribute to the countless love stories that have flourished throughout our 175 years, Beech Acres will commission a local artist for installation of a “Love Grows Here” public mosaic. The interactive “game board” honors our rich history, while engaging children and adults for generations to come.

As a corporate sponsor, we invite your team’s collaboration throughout the design and creation process! Where do YOU want to see this piece displayed as a constant celebration of the family love stories that make Cincinnati strong?

Feature your business logo and messaging while spreading the joy of art! Additional sponsorship opportunities are available through our “Love Grows Here” youth art contest, which aims to inspire children across the region to showcase their own unique creativity.

To provide loving care for hundreds of children left homeless after the cholera epidemic, the German Protestant Orphan Society opened their hearts and purses to build a residential home in Mt. Auburn, sowing family love stories for generations to come.

1900's

By the 1940's the Orphan Feast, a love-filled community annual fundraising effort featuring the biggest parade in Cincinnati, netting annually over $50,000, attracting 80K visitors at its peak.

1948

A beautiful loving home takes root on a 60-acre farm in Anderson Township. Six cottages set around a grassy lawn encircled by stately beech trees, inspired both our new name and great hope for thousands of children to come.

1975

Beech Acres became a licensed foster / kinship care and adoption provider, growing loving connections across Cincinnati. Our success is rooted in a network of care: critical training, 24-hour on-call support, and unique matching that ensures a loving fit for families and their placements.

1999

Beech Acres Parenting Center hosted the For the Love of Kids® parenting conference from 1999 to 2011, bringing the wisdom of national and local parenting experts to hundreds of parents looking to help their children thrive.

2004 & 2017

We seeded in-school innovations to help children build self-love and confidence: 1. Beyond the Classroom student mental health services, and 2. The Character Effect, a flexible SEL curriculum based on character strengths.

2008 & 2016

Parents support grew into core offerings: 1. The Parent Enrichment Program in partnership with Hamilton County Job & Family Services, and 2. Parent Connex[®], 1:1 coaching to nurture loving family relationships despite everyday challenges.

2023

Beech Acres moved back downtown to better serve our diverse community needs, establishing welcoming offices at Elsinore Place and re-focusing on Prevention services to sow loving connections for generations to come.
